RAISING CAPITAL

Kaulkin Ginsberg has been an active link between the industry and the financial markets since 1991, helping many owners and executives assess their options related to the raising of debt and equity capital.

You may be interested in raising capital to:

- Fund “organic” expansion
- Pursue acquisitions
- Acquire debt portfolios
- Finance a Management Buy-Out (MBO)
- Manage working capital needs

We have established a comprehensive network of funding sources interested in the debt collection, debt purchasing and accounts receivable management industries, and therefore we are able to streamline the process and secure the best terms for you, while moving quickly and delivering results. Our capital sources typically seek investment opportunities of $2 million or more, however, all opportunities will be considered based on their specific merits.
